

Task

You are an ambulance doctor, you are on a call. In a patient with varicose veins of the lower extremities, an arrosion of a varicose node occurred on the medial surface of the left lower leg, and cherry-colored blood is released. Bleeding with an approximate volume of up to 150 ml. Stop the bleeding by applying a pressure bandage.