

Reproductive Health in Wartime

University: Dalarna University Sweden

Credit: 7.5

Format: online

Embark on a transformative journey with "Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights of Adolescents and Young Adults in Ukraine," a 7.5 Credit, an online course offered by Dalarna University, Sweden.

The course is designed for students enrolled in medicine, psychology, and sociology studies, it addresses the pressing issues reproductive health amidst times of war and post-war challenges. As the fabric of society is tested, ensuring the well-being of individuals becomes paramount. Through this course, you will gain the expertise to guide patients/clients on matters of reproductive health.

Explore a diverse range of topics including the impact of war and conflict on relationships, mental health, risk behavior, intra-partner violence, andrology, gynaecology, sexuality, consent, societal norms, functionality, gender, and identity.

Dalarna University stands at the forefront of online education, utilizing a student-centered pedagogic approach. Recognized as a "Student Favorite" in Europe by the 2022 Enquiry Experience Tracker, our institution boasts extensive experience in global Reproductive, Health, and Rights programs across diploma, bachelor, master's, and PhD levels. We pride ourselves on fostering partnerships to ensure the relevance and sustainability of our course content.

This course operates at approximately 20% speed, requiring active participation and an investment of 6-8 hours per week from all participants.

Led by Associate Professor Catrin Borneskog-Sinclair, in collaboration with Senior Lecturer Maya Vergara and Professor Kerstin Erlandsson, Director of the Education Department for Sexual, Reproductive, Perinatal Health, this program promises an enriching learning experience.

Take the next step in your educational journey and apply for this transformative course today. Welcome to a world of knowledge and empowerment.

This course is funded by the Swedish Institute an authority tasked with generating interest and trust in Sweden abroad. They work on promoting Sweden, fostering cooperation in the Baltic Sea region, and global development.

